

Summer School: Global and European Trade and Finance (GETAF) 10 May – 5 June 2010

Attention undergrads in Economics and Business Administration!

The Cologne University of Applied Sciences (CUAS) first Summer School on Global and European Trade and Finance (GETAF) combines two modules of 3 credits each, on International Finance and International Trade and will be taught by CUAS Faculty of Economics and Business Administration Professors Harald Sander and Wolfgang Veit. The GETAF Summer School runs a total of four weeks and – among others- will include field trips to companies and cultural sites in and around Cologne as well as a day-trip to Frankfurt am Main, with visits to the European Central Bank and the German Stock Exchange. Additionally, visits from guest lecturers working in the fields of Global and European Trade and Finance will contribute a practical approach to the theory studied in class.

GETAF Summer School Participants will come from all over the world and for the most part reside at the Youth Hostel in Riehl (www.koeln-riehl.jugendherberge.de). Assistance in obtaining a subway pass will be provided. Total costs for accommodation (if staying in a double room with a private bathroom and shower at the hostel) and the subway pass add up to around € 950. The public holidays in Germany during these four weeks* will leave participants enough time for private leisure activities, such as exploring the city of Cologne or visiting other parts of Germany and Europe on weekends and networking with other participants of GETAF Summer School, which will come from all around the world.

Classes will take place in our 102-year old building at Claudiusstrasse in the Cologne Südstadt, which has been serving as a site of higher education for many decades.
