

International Week - St. Pölten

The annual St. Pölten International Week wants to bring together students from our partner universities and give them the opportunity to get to know St. Pölten University of Applied Sciences and the region of Vienna/Lower Austria.

Accommodation, daytrips and one meal per day are free of charge.

The principal languages used in the course of the week are German and English.

All students from our partner universities who are studying a business-related subject are invited to apply.
